Inspiring Young Women Forum

A panel of professional Wimmera women inspired career pathway choices for more than 60 year nine female students from across the region at a 'Careers Forum' held in November 2007.

Wimmera Southern Mallee LLEN and LCP, in partnership with Women's Health Grampians organised the forum at Horsham Golf Club to showcase the diverse range of careers currently undertaken by local women. Information on women's health was also available.

The event linked experienced career women with the year nine students and their teachers. A vet nurse, radio announcer, small business owner, naval officer and a police officer were professions showcased.

The local women shared their career pathways, education choices and lifestyles and discussed the importance of encouragement by mentors and peers.

Guest speaker for the day was former Horsham College student, Casey Green who spoke to the students about her dream of joining the Navy. Casey currently holds the position of Junior Naval Officer in the Royal Australian Navy and spoke about how it is possible to make your dreams a reality.
