Gap Year

Gap Year information

www.goodschools.com.au/insights/education-updates/the-benefits-of-a-gap-year-for-your-child

This site is for parents to find out about the benefits of a Gap Year but has great advice for students as well

Topics:

- Take a break from study
- Earn some money
- Consider your future
- Volunteer
- Travel
- Deferring study
 - How long can you defer
 - Will deferring affect scholarships and bursaries?
 - Do all Tertiary institutions allow deferrals?
- Financial considerations
 - Students from regional or remote areas who earn a designated amount of money during a gap year are able to qualify as independent and receive Youth Allowance during their studies. Deferring and working is the only way that many students can qualify for Youth Allowance to support them through their years of study. See the Centrelink website for more information on how you can qualify as independent.
